

Corplex were proud to be the construction partner and work with the team at LUUS.

LUUS Industries are a distinguished industrial kitchen manufacturer. The new LUUS development will house a manufacturing facility, warehousing, showroom and office space.

One of the most prominent features is the internal garden, which consists of two QLD Bottletrees. The open plan office space on the second level is enhanced by glass-pannelled roof, which fills the space with an abundance of natural light.

Don Luu, the managing director of LUUS Industries said, "He is happy with the enthusiasm, knowledge & experince that Corplex showed in bringing the design to life".

"We look forward to working with Corplex on future projects and can highly recommend them to anyone looking for a construction company that not only delivers a project faultlessly, on time and within budget, but one that value-adds in many areas and provides unmatched levels of professionalism and customer service".
